Report on Offline Placement Aptitude and Reasoning Test

Date: 30th Sep 2022

The offline Placement Aptitude and Reasoning Test is a practice test for all undergraduate third year Electrical & Electronics Engineering students, who are preparing for placement as well as any general competitive exams. In this test the fundamental concepts of mathematics and reasoning ability skills are covered.

An aptitude is a component of a competence to do a certain kind of work at certain level. An outstanding aptitude can be considered "talent." An aptitude may be physical or mental and it is inborn potential to do certain kind of work whether developed or undeveloped. Thus, ability is the developed knowledge, understanding, learnt or acquired abilities (skills) or attitude.

Department of Electrical & Electronics Engineering, SDMCET Dharwad, is keen in educating the present day engineers in all dimensions. With this intention, the department has organized an offline mode Placement Aptitude and Reasoning Test on 26th Sep 2022 at 11.30am. Total 69 students have attended the placement Aptitude and Reasoning Test. The supportive documents are attached.

Goals:

- To enhance the employability skills among the students.
- To improve the students ability.
- To enhance the students interest towards corporate expectations.

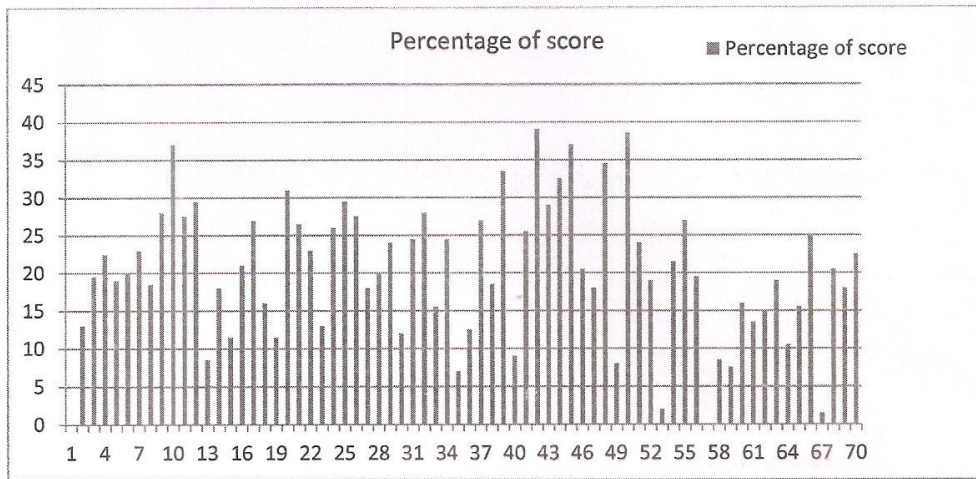

Benefits of the test:

- Free registration
- Self-test on Aptitude and Reasoning knowledge.

Contents of test:

- In the test, there were 50 multiple choice type questions, each question carries one mark.
- Each correct answer gets awarded with one mark, also; there was a negative marking of 0.25 for every wrong answer.
